United Way of the Greater Chippewa Valley

Individuals and families in the Chippewa Valley facing crisis will have access to food, shelter, clothing, medical and dental care.

While we work to address the root causes of important community issues, United Way realizes that there are individuals in our region who need our support right now. When individuals are unable to meet their immediate needs, it becomes more difficult to focus on long-term goals such as employment, housing, or education. When a crisis occurs, these programs are there, providing those in need with services and assistance to bring the stability they need to get back on track.

Programs partnered with United Way to provide basic needs are required to collaborate with other programs that help transition these clients beyond basic needs assistance, and help them move toward long-term self-sustainability.
